REMOTE SELLING MASTERY

In today's new age of stay-at-home selling, remote meetings are the rule, not the exception. But how can your team become more effective in remote first or second sales meetings? Each "at-bat" your sellers get is more valuable now than ever, so making sure they know how to maximize every remote sales situation is critical.

Remote Selling Mastery introduces a one-of-a-kind, hands-on, remote training session for sales teams large and small to learn and then practice some very simple but powerful techniques to ensure each remote meeting is time well spent - for both buyer and seller.

AND IT WORKS!

According to Jason Sherwood

Director of Sales
Enablement at Equinix

 EQUINIX

“

After COVID hit, we tasked Enablecity to pivot from physical, in-person training sessions to remote workshops over Zoom. We saw a phenomenal array of innovative ideas including some that just blew us away and it was a powerful group learning experience. We've had tremendous positive feedback from salespeople and Solution Architects who have adopted the approach and are beginning to see pipeline build and deals close as a result.
